

Utilities

CLARIFYING THE ROLES BETWEEN COUNTY AND CITY GOVERNMENTS

County

None

City

CDE Lightband:

The municipal electric and broadband provider for the City of Clarksville, offers electric, internet, video, and voice services to customers within the city limits.

CDE Lightband serves over 80,000 metered homes and businesses with electric service and 30,000 customers with broadband services over their Fiber to the Premise Network.

Though a City department, it is generally guided by a privatized governing board.

Gas & Water:

Clarksville Gas and Water delivers natural gas, water, and wastewater services to all residents in the Clarksville, Montgomery County service area. They have more than 80,000 metered homes and businesses for water serving more than 220,000 residents and provide gas to 30,000 metered homes and businesses.

They also provide natural gas service is also provided to Robertson and Cheatham counties in Tennessee, Christian and Todd counties in Kentucky, and the Fort Campbell, Kentucky military installation.

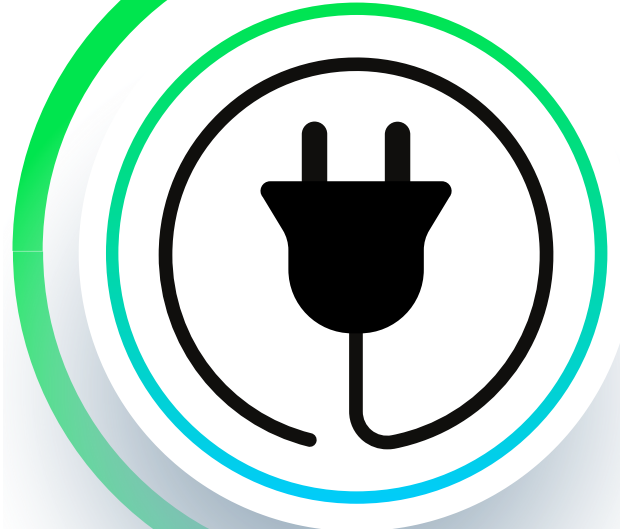

CEMC

Cumberland Electrical Membership Corporation:

CEMC is a private power distributor serving Cheatham, Montgomery, Robertson, Stewart, and Sumner counties.

They are a nonprofit electric cooperative regulated by TVA and governed by a member elected board of directors. The Cooperative's members elect a representative Board of Directors to set policy, approve the budget, and oversee their strategic direction.

CEMC Cumberland Connect also has fiber services available for all Montgomery County customers.

LEARN MORE AT:

Montgomery County Government Website

City of Clarksville Government Website

Sources gathered from:
WWW.CEMC.ORG